Habit-forming Medicines.

Whatever may be the fact as to many of the so-called patent medicines containing injurious ingredients as broadly published in some journals of more or less influence, this publicity has certainly been of great benefit in arousing needed attention to this subject. It has, in a considerable measure, resulted in the most intelligent people avoiding such foods and medicines as may be fairly suspected of containing the injurious ingredients complained of. Recognizing this fact some time ago, Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., "took time by the forelock," as it were, and published broadcast all the ingredients of which his popular medicines are composed. Thus he has completely forestalled all harping critics and all opposition that might otherwise be urged against his medicines, because they are NOW OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. Furthermore, from the formula printed on every bottle wrapper, it will be seen that these medicines contain no alcohol or other habit-forming drugs. Neither do they contain any narcotics or injurious agents, their ingredients being purely vegetable, extracted from the roots of medicinal plants found growing in the depths of our American forests and of well recognized curative virtues.

Instead of alcohol, which even in small portions long continued, as in obstinate cases of diseases, becomes highly objectionable from its tendency to produce a craving for stimulants, Dr. Pierce employs chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine, which of itself is a valuable remedy in many cases of chronic diseases, being a superior demulcent, antiseptic, antiferment and supporting nutritive. It enhances the curative action of the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark and Bloodroot, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," in all bronchial, throat and lung affections attended with severe coughs. As will be seen from the writings of the eminent Drs. Grover Coe, of New York; Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, Phila.; Scudder, of Cincinnati; Ellingwood, of Chicago; Hale, of Chicago, and others, who stand as leaders in their several schools of practice, the foregoing agents are the very best ingredients that Dr. Pierce could have chosen to make up his famous "Discovery" for the cure of not only bronchial, throat and lung affections, but also of chronic catarrh in all its various forms wherever located.

UNHAPPINESS DISPELLED.

Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 50c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Conductor Charged with Murder.

Nathan M. Riggs, a passenger conductor on the Omaha road, was arrested yesterday at Elroy, Wis., on the suspicion that it was he who on Tuesday mortally wounded Miss Millie Ellison in the National Hotel in Minneapolis, and then ignited her dress, over which he had poured alcohol.

It has been established that robbery was the motive of the crime. Miss Ellison recently sold her large millinery store in Ellsworth, Wis., and a few days ago came to St. Paul and Minneapolis bringing about $4,000 in commercial paper. Her relatives understood that she and Riggs, who had been keeping company with the woman, were planning to invest in lands out West.

The man who registered at the hotel as "Wilson" the same hour that Miss Ellison took a room there, and who is supposed to be Conductor Riggs, went with the woman to a bank Tuesday morning and waited near the teller's window, while she cashed checks amounting to $2,741. That was the last seen of the woman until employes of the hotel broke into her room and found her clothing on fire. But it has been learned that her companion went from the bank to the hardware store and bought the hammer with which her skull was crushed, and later to a drug store and bought a large bottle of wood alcohol, saying he was going camping and wanted it for fuel.

Three hours after the murder, Riggs took his train out to Minneapolis. Being the conductor, the detectives never suspected him. A few stations down the line Riggs was handed a telegram instructing him to arrest the murderer, whose description was given fully, if he should be on his train. Such instructions were given to men in charge of all outgoing trains. Riggs read the dispatch without agitation. The fact that he showed no unusual interest in the death of his long time friend is against him. Riggs has a wife and a sixteen year old daughter in Minneapolis. Relatives of Miss Ellison, who came of an excellent family and whose reputation was without blemish, declare that Riggs had deceived her regarding his family relations, and that she was preparing to become his bride.

SUICIDE OF RIGGS.

Elroy, July 12.—N. M. Riggs under arrest here on the charge of murdering Miss Ellison in a hotel in Minneapolis, has committed suicide.

Investigation of Canned Meats.

The Massachusetts Board of Health yesterday made public the result of its investigation of canned meats. The board examined nearly 150 different kinds of canned meat, from every possible source, as well as the canned meat establishments.

It was found that many of the preparations contained a large amount of foreign matter. Of one brand of potted ham, prepared by a western firm, the report states:

"This was found to consist of a small amount or normal muscle, considerable epidermis in large pieces, numerous blood vessels and nerves and the salivary gland, ground to a paste. Quality poor, the material being largely scrap."

Of another western potted ham the report says:

"Abundant muscle fiber, considerable epidermis, much granular debris, some fat and cornmeal. Quality fair, but inasmuch as there appears to be no excuse for the presence of cornmeal, it must be regarded as adulterated.

A number of the other products, the board of health states, contain cornmeal. The board says:

"Deviled ham is, or should be, ham to which seasoning has been added. The majority of deviled hams in the market, however, contain added material which in no way can contribute to a sharp taste, or, indeed, to any taste. Cornmeal, for example, adds nothing to the flavor, but it is cheap and enables a meat product to carry considerable additional water,"

Several brands of prepared meat were found to contain either boric acid or borax as a preservative. One western "chicken loaf" is thus described:

"Very little muscular fiber; much connective tissue and corn. It is preserved with either boric acid or borax. The label states that the material is of superior quality, 'having been carefully selected and inspected according to the law enacted by Congress March 3, 1891, relating to the inspection of meats.'"

Charged with Stealing Diamonds.

A man who described himself as James Stellman, an engineer, 24 years old, of Brooklyn, was arrested in New York yesterday on a charge of complicity in a $50,000 diamond robbery which occurred in London on March 14, 1905. According to the police, a man named Samuel Lockett is at present serving a five-year prison term in England in connection with the crime, having been arrested in Liverpool, Eng., soon after the robbery took place. The victim of the robbery was a salesman for a firm of French jewelers, Clattauer Brothers, who was in London on behalf of his house. He carried sample diamonds and other jewels to the value of $50,000 in a small hand satchel. It is alleged by the police that Stellman and Lockett followed the salesman about, and when the salesman entered a drug store in London and laid the satchel down the satchel was changed for one looking identically the same. The loss was not discovered until later.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 12, 1906.

REGARDLESS of the hostile attitude of the Senate the administration contemplates involving this government still deeper in the tangled affairs of Santo Domingo. It now has under consideration a proposal from President Caceres that the United States give its moral backing to a $15,000,000 bond issue by the Caceres government. The seriousness of the proposal that the administration give even moral backing to Dominican bonds, especially after the refusal of the Senate to ratify the Santo Domingo treaty, is realized at the State Department, where the greatest reticence is displayed on matters pertaining to the fiscal affairs of Santo Domingo. One thing may be stated with certainty and that is that the United States government has promised Caceres to do its utmost to prevent the landing in Santo Domingo of any revolutionary force. Caceres having shown willingness to accede to the desires of the administration to pay off the foreign indebtedness of Santo Domingo, the administration of this country has decided to support Caceres. It is for this reason that a strong cordon of American warships is being drawn around the island of Santo Domingo and that nearly 1,000 marines are being hurried to Santo Domingo in readiness to land, if necessary, to maintain the Caceres government under cover of the plea that American citizens and interests are being protected. Just how far Assistant Secretary Bacon committed the administration to the scheme of backing Caceres's proposed $15,000,000 bond issue cannot be learned, as parties to the conference are very reticent. But there is reason to believe the assistant secretary made it known the administration thought well of the plan and might formally indorse it after further consideration.

THE STARTLING declarations made yesterday at the Navy Department by Charles M Schwab, representing the Carnegie Company and President Johnson, and Vice President Schneider, of the Bethlehem Steel Company, when it was announced that unless the government saw fit to divide the big armor contract with them these companies would be obliged to shut down their plants, was read with interest throughout the country. As stated in the Gazette, when the bids for the armor plate required for the battle ships Michigan and South Carolina were opened Tuesday it was found that the independent concern, the Midvale Steel Company, had underbid the trust companies more than a half million dollars. The lowest bid was exactly $100 a ton less than the trust's bid of last years, and on the 10,000 tons of armor represents a saving of $1,000,000 over last year. It has always been contended that the government was paying extravagant prices to the trust for armor plate, and the revelations yesterday prove that this has been the fact to these many years.

FORMER JUDGE ALTON B. PARKER, in a statement given out in New York yesterday, took issue with some of the utterances of Secretary of War Taft in the speech delivered at Greensboro, N. C., by Mr. Taft last Monday. Judge Parker declares that the secretary sought to have the public draw the inference that the recent prosecutions of alleged illegal combinations are due to new statutes. To this Judge Parker takes exception, and to support his contention he quotes from his letter of acceptance and a speech subsequently delivered during the last presidential campaign. In both the speech and the letter Judge Parker is quoted as saying that the laws then on the statute books were entirely adequate if enforced.

CHEATED of his evening game of pinochle and glass of beer, and doomed to see Sundays pass without even a chance to meld or bury his lips in the foam of a cool draught an old man named George Schrader, of Jersey City, killed himself a day or two ago with gas. Dying, he blamed the framers of New Jersey's latest excise law for having made life not worth living. Schrader was nearly eighty years old. He was without relatives, and lived for the joys of pinochle and a few glasses of beer.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, July 12.

Nothing has been received at the Department of Justice indicating an intention on the part of Attorney General Moody to return here for a conference with the district attorneys engaged in laying Standard Oil affairs before grand juries at Cleveland, Ohio, Jamestown, N. Y., and elsewhere. It is deemed quite probable at the department here that such a conference may take place, but if it does it will probably be at the office of the Attorney General in Boston or at his home in Haverhill, Mass. When Mr. Moody left the city it was not his intention to return to Washington before the expiration of his summer vacation. Solicitor General Hoyt will be in the city this month and if any of the District Attorneys care to consult him, he will be on deck to give advice on any broached subject. No request for a conference has yet reached him however.

Experts in the Agricultural Department are preaching that irrigation is just the thing that many farmers in the North Atlantic States need to insure them of a private fortune in a few years of industrious labor. With irrigation it would appear only a question of time when truck farmers would become millionaires. At the outset of the report the experts acknowledged that the expenditure of from $44 to $65 per acre, the average cost of urban water to those on the outskirts of cities, would not be advisable on a crop of wheat, oats, rye or corn, where the value of the crop yielded lies between $15 to $30 per acre. For truck farms, particularly for those producing celery and berry crops, that are likely to suffer from a short drought, the experts would have the farmers expend some money for a pumping plant to insure a regular supply of moisture.

Officials of this government have just estimated that the remittances to China made by coolies and laborers at work in other countries amounts to $50,000,000 annually. At least $5,000,000 is sent home by the indentured coolies in the Transvaal mines, while a large share comes from the United States. It is pointed out that this is one of the ways China meets her adverse balance of trade.

Sticking unflinchingly to his post, while all Washington is sweltering in the heat and brother officials in other departments are enjoying ocean baths or mountain breezes, Commissioner James R. Garfield, of the bureau of corporations, keeps pounding away at the trusts. With half a dozen investigations into the principal industries of the United States, representing the investment of a billion of dollars, underway, he will work through the summer to be Johnny-on-the-spot should the President call upon him for reports on the business methods and the operations of any of the corporations he has taken a look-see into.

Smallpox has broken out in Colon the Atlantic part of the Isthmus of Panama. The federal grand jury returned an indictment today against the local ice trust under the Sherman anti trust act, charging conspiracy in restraint of trade and competition. The concerns and individuals indicted are the American Ice Co., the Chapin-Sachs Manufacturing Company, Samuel A. Kimberly, George F. Hoover, Arthur A. Chapin and Samuel C. Redman. The indictment charges that the American Ice Company and the Chapin-Sachs Company, through the persons named, did unlawfully and knowingly contract, combine and conspire to maintain the price of ice furnished for local consumption at the same price for both concerns; and that in pursuance of this arrangement, they agreed that after April 20th they would not sell ice at wholesale for less than 35 cents a hundred pounds, or at retail at less than 40 cents a hundred. The grand jury had been in session for several days and had examined a large number of witnesses among both retail and wholesale ice dealers. It was the prospect of a local ice famine that brought about the investigation ending in today's indictment.

Immediately after the returning of indictment, bench warrents were issued upon the application of District Attorney Baker, for the individuals named therein, all of whom are officials of the companies indicted.

It is believed here, however, that Guatemala will no longer be patient, but will now declare war on Salvador.

Before the Interstate Commerce Commission today Attorney John T. March proceeded to elicit testimony from George L. Peck, general manager of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, which, he believes, will enrage the railroad companies, other than the Pennsylvania, who have had contracts for lubricating oil with the Galena Oil Company, of Franklin, Pa. It will be his endeavor to show that the Pennsylvania line got the lubricant for 11 cents, although the listed price was 37, and that other rail road companies paid more than 11 cents, notwithstanding the fact that their contracts assured them of the lowest prices charged anybody.

The remarkable part of Mr. Dinkey's visit to the Navy Department this morning was his evident desire not to be known. He positively denied his identity to newspapermen as he left Secretary Bonaparte's office, although he was well known to a half dozen persons present.

No use trying, those Brazilians cannot be induced to drink American whisky. So says Consul-General George E. Anderson, of Rio Janeiro, whose article on the failure of American whisky to get a foothold in this country, is significant, coming as it does just before U. S. delegates leave for the Pan-American Congress. The natives, he says, use a variety of rum made from sugar cane called "cachaca," made and sold at about one cent a drink. "It seems to answer the purpose," he adds in a plaintive way. The consul is somewhat aggrieved that the Britishers, who exercise such a large influence in Brazil, do not take to American whisky. "English colonials the world over," he philosophizes, "take to 'whisky and soda,' and they carry with this habit a preference for Scotch and Irish, notably Scotch, whiskies."

Both the Department of Justice and the Civil Service Commission are about to take action in the case of Vivial J. Fagin, U. S. marshal for the southern district of Ohio, with headquarters at Cincinnati. Charges against Fagin have been numerous, emanating from political enemies in the Queen City, where recently he has been an active factor in the successful effort to rid the city of a republican boss regime. He has, it is said, brought down upon himself the enmity of former ward associates and the charges against him cover a wide range from pernicious political activity to assault and battery.

The union men had long been looking for revenge upon the officers, according to one of the victims, and yesterday afternoon, in overwhelming numbers, they got it. The ladder from the eighth to the seventh floor, the only avenue of escape, was pulled down by union men below, and the three officers were left on the eighth floor, trapped, and at the mercy of their foes.

One of the special policemen, Michael Butler, was thrown from the platform and fell two stories to the sixth floor. He was fatally injured, having sustained a broken leg, a fracture of the skull, and internal injuries. The other two men were seriously but not fatally hurt.

Four of the union men were arrested and identified by Butler as having been among those who assaulted him. Butler died a few minutes later.

Corporation Commission.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., July 12.—The Corporation Commission was sitting without Capt. Willard today, the latter being absent on account of the illness of Mrs. Willard. Mr. Darant, traffic manager of N. & W. Railway, was on the stand, and he will probably not get through by tomorrow night, when a ten days' adjournment will be had.

The Thaw Case.

New York, July 12.—Should Mrs. Beatrice Schwartz, a friend of Harry Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit, who was subpoenoed yesterday, after much maneuvering, to appear today before the grand jury, prove to be a willing witness, the State's case against Harry Thaw, charged with the killing of Stanford White, will be practically complete. Mrs. Schwartz made every effort to avoid the subpoena servers, but failed. Assistant District Attorney Garvan said this morning that he hoped that after a short talk with Mrs. Schwartz she would view the situation in a different light. Mr. Garvan believes that Mrs. Schwartz has been badly advised by her lawyers. Mr. Garvan intimated that the house of detention was a cool place in summer for those who refused to give information needed by the district attorney. Mrs. Schwartz's deposition will complete the chain of evidence to convict Thaw of murder in the first degree, the district attorney hopes. It was at her house that Thaw is reported to have drawn a revolver and threatened the life of White. "Billy" Sturgis, who is now in Berlin, Conn., was present at the dinner. Sturgis has written a letter in which he states that he is a friend of the Thaw family and is willing to do all he can to help Harry in his trouble. He did not write that he is willing to tell all he knows to the district attorney. Mr. Garvan said he might take a trip to Hartford and talk with Sturgis at the office of his counsel. Sturgis in an interview says that while he has attended dinners at the home of Mrs. Schwartz that he fails to recall that Harry Thaw ever threatened the life of Stanford White. If Sturgis should become a witness in the trial of the young Pittsburg man, he could tell in detail the relations of Harry Thaw and Miss Nesbit from the time of their first meeting. The will of Stanford White, which was filed yesterday, and leaves practically all his property to his wife, Bessie White, shows that it was made shortly after White was apprised that Thaw had put detectives on his trail. The will is dated April 14, 1906, two months before his death, and just shortly after Detective Bergoff informed him that the detectives who were shadowing him were in the employ of Harry Thaw. No idea of the value of his estate is obtainable from the document.

Lake Disaster.

La Crosse, Wis., July 12.—The packet Quincy, the Diamond Jo line steamer, went aground near Trempleau, Wis., at 10:30 last night. Two hundred and fifty people were on board. A party of sixty reached La Crosse this morning. The boat crashed into a rocky promontory. Rivermen left La Crosse at 2:30 o'clock this morning to render aid and a special train was dispatched on the Burlington to rescue and survivors marooned on the marshy bank. The search light was not burning because myriads of bugs were attracted by the lights. The boat was proceeding up the river in the dark. The packet was one of the largest on upper the Mississippi. The boat turned turtle and partially sank. Later the upper works caught fire and a panic reigned. Negro roustabouts rendered little assistance, grabbing life preservers and seizing boats to save themselves. People were in their berths at the time of the accident and it is thought many were drowned.

St. Louis, July 12.—In a telegram to the Diamond Jo officials here, Clerk J. T. Schnur, of the packet Quincy, states that the boat sank in fourteen feet of water, about twelve miles from Winona, Minn. He states that there was no fire and that no lives were lost. The upper deck is above water. Private telegrams from some of the passengers state that the Quincy struck a snag.

Serious Railroad Accident.

Petersburg, Ind., July 12.—The wreck of a westbound freight train on the Southern Railway, eight miles west of here, at six o'clock this morning has resulted in the loss of three lives and thousands of dollars of property to the railroad company. The westbound freight was making thirty miles an hour when the engine ran into a spike in the switch and toppled over. The entire train left the track, demolishing many cars and nearly totally wrecking the engine. Both fireman and engineer were so badly scalded that they died a few minutes later, while Luther Capeheart, son of Rev. Capeheart, of Winslow, who was brakeman, had his right arm and left leg cut off and died a few hours later. Two other members of the train crew are expected to die.

The Hartje Divorce Case.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 12.—The famous Hartje divorce trial was resumed before Judge Fraser at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, the respondent, was the first witness called to the witness stand and stated that the letter in evidence, that she had formerly identified as one she had written to Susie Wagner, a servant, was not in her handwriting, and that insofar as the writing was concerned the letter was a forgery. This writing was to have been taken as a standard but she swore that it was only an imitation of her writing. The letter was the same that she had written to Susie Wagner, about wanting Susie on her side. At 11:30 o'clock court recessed until 2 o'clock. Handwriting expert D. N. Carvalho was on the witness stand when the court recessed.

Memorial Services.

New York, July 12.—Jews all over the country today celebrated the second anniversary of the death of Theodore Herzl, the first leader of the Zionist movement. While going down Handeross Hill, one of the steepest declines on the road, the omnibus overturned, burying the passengers under the wreck or throwing them to the ground. It is feared that several of the injured may die. Two more victims of the accident succumbed to their injuries this afternoon, bringing the number of dead up to eight. Two others are reported to be dying, and sixteen persons are seriously injured. There were thirty four passengers on the omnibus and few of them escaped without injury.

Alleged Violations of Law.

Jamestown, N. Y., July 12.—The federal grand jury in session here today began the investigation of alleged violations of the Interstate Commerce law by the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Standard Oil Company, which were reported some time ago by the Department of Commerce and Labor. It is alleged that the Pennsylvania Railroad gave the Standard a rate of nine cents per barrel from Olean to Rochester, and that the independent companies were charged 39 cents per barrel; that the saving to the Standard by the secret rate in 1904 was $38,000, Verdict Annulled.

Paris, July 12.—The verdict of the court-martial of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, by which he was condemned on the charge of betraying French army secrets to Germany, has been annulled by the Court of Cassation by which his case was reviewed. By the verdict of the Court of Cassation it is declared that nothing remains of the charges on which the Rennes courtmartial condemned Dreyfus and that, therefore, since neither crime nor offense exists no further trial is necessary. An extraordinary council of the Cabinet has been ordered for today to consider the situation created by the Dreyfus verdict and decide what shall be done in regard to his restoration to the army.

Paris, July 12.—Premier Sarrien announced at the meeting of the council of ministers that it has been decided to reinstate Captain Dreyfus in the army with the rank of major, and that Col. Picquart, who was expelled from the army because of his activity in the defence of Dreyfus, will be reinstated with the rank of brigadier-general.

Orangemen Celebrating.

Belfast, Ireland, July 12.—Orangemen are celebrating today the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne, which, upon a number of occasions in the past, had wound up with countless broken heads and considerable bloodshed. Dwellings and private residences everywhere are decorated and a procession in which there are not less than 20,000 people is parading through the principal streets. There is great excitement and as a result all the extra members of the police force on duty. As yet no collisions have occurred between the Orangemen and the Nationalists.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 12, 11 a. m.—The market was full of selling orders at the opening and pressure continued in a number of issues during the greater part of the first hour. The sharpest declines so far, have been in the high priced stocks. At the end of the first hour, some support appeared accompanied by a covering movement on which prices made moderate rallies from the lowest previous range. As prices reached lower levels bearish talk increased, and in the recent trading the room has been full of predictions of further declines in a number of active issues.

Asked Bail to be Fixed.

Special Assistant Attorney General Sanford yesterday appeared before Judge Waddill in the United States Court at Richmond and asked that the bail bond for the fertilizer company officers, indicted under the Sherman anti-trust law, be fixed. Counsel for the defense requested permission to incorporate in the court's order in these cases a recital of the circumstances attending the appearances of the men before Judge Waddill. This was granted and the attorneys on both sides began the preparation of the record to be used. J. C. Tinsley declined to give the $5,000 bond required by Judge Waddill for his appearance in the middle Tennessee district, and made application to Judge Goff for a writ of habeas corpus in order to get the case to the Federal Supreme Court in the most direct way possible. Judge Goff set the habeas corpus hearing for this morning, and the whole procedure in the United States Court in Richmond will have to be gone over again before him. Meantime Mr. Tinsley technically is under arrest, and should his application be refused and he still declines to give bond, he would have to go to jail.

Charged with Murdering a Boy.

The decomposed body of Willie Barkovich, 11 years old, was yesterday afternoon found hidden under several sacks of oats in the warehouse of Polich & Co., a prominent grocery firm in Anaconda, Montana. The boy's skull had been fractured by a blow and his neck bore marks of choking.

M. P. Polich, senior member of the firm, a prominent and wealthy resident of Anaconda, and John Lican, one of his drivers, are under arrest on suspicion of having killed the boy. Both deny any knowledge of the cause of the death of the boy, and Polich suggested that the boy was attempting to steal flour and that the sacks of oats fell on him and smothered him. The body was found as a result of a complaint made to the sanitary officers by a woman who lives in the vicinity of the warehouse noticing an odor that came from the store indicating a decomposing body.

The boy had been missing since July 3d, but his mother believed he had run away from home, as he had done before, and would return.

After the finding of the body two former playmates of the lad furnished the evidence on which Polich and Lican were arrested. They said that on the evening of July 3 they were shooting off some roman candles near the warehouse and some sparks fell on Polich. It so angered the latter that he grabbed Barkovich and pulled him into the warehouse, assisted by Lican. The boys then heard Barkovich cry for help, but they were afraid to report the matter. They waited several hours but the boy did not come out.

When the body was found the lad's tongue was protruding and his skull was fractured. Intense excitement has been caused in Anaconda and the feeling against the two men under arrest is high.

Short Will Plead Guilty.

Henry A. Short, a member of the University Club, 1 west Fifty-fourth street, New York, which is given as his address, also a member of the Columbia University Alumni Association, gave up his hope of freedom yesterday to avert an examination on charges made by Charlotte Fitzsimmons, a girl of 14, who told Magistrate Alexander Finelite, in the West Side Police Court, a story which involved Barbara Livingston, proprietress of an apartment house at 903 Sixth avenue, but in which Short was described as the principal malefactor.

Mrs. Mary Fitzsimmons, mother of the little girl, made an effort to kill Mrs. Livingston after the hearing, and promised to carry out her intention in the future. The story told by the child, outlining a deliberate and long-planned scheme to ruin the girl, made even the hardened court officials shudder.

In describing the manner in which she said she was induced to meet Short in the Livingston woman's rooms, Charlotte Fitzsimmons went back three years, when, as a child caring for her baby brother in Central Park, she alleged that Short spoke to her, bought soda water for herself and the little boy and seemed never to have lost sight of her thereafter.

Short will be presented to the grand jury at once for indictment, as will Mrs. Livingston. His hearing was adjourned until July 23 on the stipulation given by Bartow S. Weeks, counsel for Short, that the latter shall make no attempt to obtain his liberty under bail. Short, it is said, has decided to plead guilty to avoid a public trial.

Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company.

S. Dabney Crenshaw, secretary of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, has called the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, which will be held on July 18 at the principal offices of the company in Jersey City. The meeting will be for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year, considering the annual report of the board of directors and such other business as may come before the corporation. Among the more important matters coming up will be the annual statement of the company, which has just been issued by S. W. Travers, treasurer. The statement aims to give the true financial condition of the company, together with the results of the operations during the fiscal year. In the report are included the accounts of the Southern Cotton Oil Company and those of the other consolidated companies of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, with the exception of the Eniglerk Potash Company, the reports of which are handled separately. In local banking and brokerage circles it is said that the published statement of the company has not affected the market. The statement is considered very good, but it has been anticipated.

Woman Assaulted by a Negro.

Mrs. L. S. Chapin, a prominent woman of Manchester, Vt., was assaulted about 2 o'clock Monday morning by a negro named Isaac Knight, at her home about six miles from Aiken, S. C. Mrs. Chapin had no near white neighbors, consequently nothing was known of the affair until yesterday. The sheriff immediately upon being informed of the affair went to the vicinity and tried to capture the negro, but no trace of him could be found. There is no fear of lynching, but every effort will be made to capture the negro. Mrs. Chapin lived with no one but the negro who committed the assault and a negro family which lives in her yard, the negro staying in a room at the side of the house. Mrs. Chapin treated the negro with the greatest consideration, and is said to have remarked that she considered him a perfect gentleman. She had been warned by white people several times to be careful how she allowed him to stay at her home with no white protection, but she would pay no attention to them. Early Monday morning Knight knocked at the front door. Mrs. Chapin let him into the house and was in the dining room preparing him something to eat, when he attacked her.

Local Matters.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 4:44 a. m. and sets at 7:26 p. m. High water at 12:52 a. m. and 1:15 p. m.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section partly cloudy tonight and Friday; light east to southeast winds.

The Weather.

The hot weather of yesterday was broken by rain in the afternoon which was accompanied by considerable thunder and lightning. The storm, however, was heaviest north of Alexandria, and in parts of Washington and Maryland some damage followed. A colored man was killed by lightning near Rockville and the electric fluid stunned people in other places.

The roof of a new house on Massachusetts avenue, near the new union station in Washington was ripped off by the lightning. At the Wallace Hotel, 514 Thirteenth street northwest, an electric wire was struck and carried a dazzling flash inside the dining-room of the building. The flag pole on the Columbia Theater was struck by lightning and shivered. Some of the Treasury clerks thought that their time had come when one peal of thunder, accompanied by a blinding zigzag of white lightning, crashed through the building. The wind blew down several trees in the northwest section of the city.

During the height of the storm, the tower of the Capital Traction station at Thirty-sixth and M street northwest was struck by lightning, knocking some terra cotta and brick to the ground.

The temperature fell somewhat after the rain and conditions were more pleasant last night and today.

Police Commissioners.

There was another meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners in the Mayor's office last night. It was determined to hold other meetings next week in order to formulate a new book of rules. The investigation of the working of the police force is virtually over, and it may be stated that there will be no dismissals, although some members may have to undergo the ordeal of a reprimand for alleged indiscretions. It is stated that when the new book of rules shall have been adopted the officers will be held strictly responsible to all the requirements of the commissioners, and infractions of rules will subject the delinquents to dismissal from the force. During the meeting last night a motion was made requesting Lieutenant James Smith to resign his position on the force. The vote stood 2 to 2, one member not voting. The investigation has been carried for several months.

It is said that the office of second lieutenant will be created, and he, with the first lieutenant, will have charge of the men on the streets, both lieutenants acting as roundsmen.

After Trade.

The final meeting of the organization committee of the Shippers' Association of Washington will be held this evening. Probably the first work of the association will be to try to secure favorable railway rates and prompt service out of Washington. It is contended that the railroads have discriminated against the merchants of that city in the shipping of goods into the South. Washington business men, a member of the committee said, desire only to be placed on the same footing with the business men of Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Alexandria, and be able to compete for the trade of the surrounding territory and the South without being handicapped on account of improper railroad facilities and unfavorable rates.

Police Court.

Justice Wm. A. Moore presided in the Police Court this morning and disposed of the following cases;

Henry Anderson, colored, arrested by Officer Roberts charged with stealing sacks from W. H. May & Son, was fined $10.

David Sully, arrested by Officers Beach and Garvey charged with assault, was fined $5.

A man, arrested by Officers Roberts and Garvey charged with being drunk on the street, was fined $2 50.

George Jackson and Pearl Baltimore, both colored, arrested by Officers Bell and Henderson charged with disorderly conduct, were fined $2.50 each.

Mortality Among Infants.

The mortality among infants in Washington has become alarming. A physician of that city says the shortage in ice undoubtedly has a bearing on the increased number of deaths, as milk not kept with ice undergoes a chemical change of such a nature that when it enters the alimentary canal its casein cannot be properly assimilated, and bacterial conditions arise which cause the so-called summer complaints especially among children, who are naturally more sensitive to such diseases.

Fire Company Meetings.

A meeting of the Reliance Fire Company was held last night at which arrangements were made for attending the meeting of State Firemen's Association in Richmond August 22.

There was a meeting also of the Columbia Fire Company last night for the same purpose. Arrangements were made for giving an excursion to Luna Park on the 19th instant.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

The will of the late Dr. Wm. R. Purvis was admitted to probate. The deceased left his estate to his wife, Eloise B. Purvis, who qualified as executrix.

The case of the com. vs. Leroy Beach, jr., indicted for selling liquor without a license; jury and verdict of not guilty.

Failed to Find the Man.

Some people living on Cameron street went to the station house last night and reported that a man was walking on the roof of the Masonic Temple. The tiler of the lodge was summoned and after the building had been opened Lieutenant Smith directed Officers Sherwood, Gill and Young to make a search, but no cowan or eavesdropper could be found within or without the structure.

Parker Lodge of colored Odd Fellows of this city went on an excursion to Glymont today.

Telegraph Operator Injured.

John Adams, of Clifton, Fairfax county, was struck by Southern train No. 29 which left here shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning and painfully injured. The accident happened just within the town of Manassas. According to a statement made by the engineer on the train, Adams, who had been drinking, was sitting on the end of a tie, with his head resting in his hands. As soon as the engineer saw him he gave a warning and reduced speed, so that the train was not running more than fifteen miles an hour when Adams was struck. The external injuries seemed to be a small cut on the forehead and severe bruises on the left shoulder, where the cylinder of the engine struck him. The injured man was taken to the station, where he was treated by Dr. J. M. Lewis. Mr. Adams is an operator and has a brother who is chief dispatcher for the Southern in Alexandria.

Burglar in the House?

A few nights ago a resident of Seminary Hill when about to close the house for the night heard a noise in a room and immediately surmised that it was caused by the movements of a burglar. He locked the door as quickly as possible and summoning his son the couple started toward the room for the purpose of capturing the intruder. The man of the house had armed himself with a pistol and the son with a club and a lantern. The youth was instructed to turn the light of the lantern into the room as soon as paterfamilias outlocked the door, the latter being fully determined to shoot the supposed burglar. The door was unlocked and thrown open when the pet dog of the house, weighing between two and three pounds, emerged wagging its tail.

Meeting of Colored People.

Washington, president of the National Negro Business League, has called the meeting for the purpose of forming a local business league in the vicinity of Alexandria to act in unison with the national body.

Vice President in an Accident.

Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, accompanied by Mrs. Fairbanks and their son Frederick, arrived at Danville, Ill., yesterday from Indianapolis in the Fairbanks touring car. They took luncheon at the home of Speaker Cannon and left later for Mansfield Ill., where they will spend several days at the Fairbanks country place.

The automobile bearing the Vice President and party yesterday afternoon crashed into a buggy driven by Joseph M. Dougherty, a prominent democratic politican. The two vehicles came together at a curve in the road and Mr. Dougherty was thrown out and painfully bruised. The Vice President alighted and went to the assistance of Mr. Dougherty.

Mr. Dougherty expressed his pleasure at the meeting, but said he would have been better pleased had it taken place under slightly different circumstances. After this friendly colloquy, the Vice President resumed his journey. Dougherty's injuries are not serious.

Litigation Over Fees.

In connection with the litigation in the Washington courts over the counsel fees for securing the approval of claims of the Cherokee Indians against the United States for more than a million dollars, Justice Wright yesterday enjoined the payment by Charles H. Treat, treasurer of the United States, of $75,000 to former Senator Marion Butler, of North Carolina. This amount represents a of portion the fee which is said to be due the firm of Shelley, Butler & Martin and other lawyers who presented the case before the Court of Claims. By the action of the court, however, Robert L. Owen, the Indian lawyer, who successfully argued the case before the United States Supreme Court, is allowed to receive from Mr. Treat the balance of the attorneys' fees, the total of which is said to amount to $300,000 The money for the payment of the claims of the Indians of the Cherokee nation was appropriated by Congress on the last day of the recent session.

Baked Diamonds in Bread.

Annie Strickler, a German girl, 20 years old, was arrested by Detective John Roach, at Pittsburg, Pa., yesterday morning and locked up as a suspicious person. She is charged with a unique system of diamond stealing — that of baking the gems in loaves of bread, then passing the loaves out to a confederate, who would disappear with them. Miss Strickler was searched by the matron. Two rings were found in her umbrella during the search She admitted that she had stored a lot of jewelry in some dough, which was baked into a loaf of bread. The loaf was placed outside to cool, and it disappeared. The police are trying to find the loaf The girl will have a hearing today, and in the meantime the police are trying to locate a young woman who is said to not only have told the Strickler woman how to conceal the diamonds, but who is thought to have remained outside and taken the loaves of bread.

While in a state of melancholy Mrs. Sophie Simandl, twenty-nine years old of Elizabeth, N. J, committed suicide this morning.

Hippocratic Era In Medicine.

Richard Cole Newton declares that even in the early days of the Hippocratic era the art of surgery eschewed all forms of superstition and philosophical conjecture, attaining practical results by direct methods. At a very early age the profession of medicine was fully recognized in Greece and in many cases was generously rewarded. We read of swindlers and charlatans in those days too. Patent medicines were also sold. The Hippocratic oath, which for over twenty centuries has remained practically unchanged, is an evidence of the sagacity, the sense of professional honor and responsibility and the clear thinking of the Greeks. Hippocrates was born on the island of Cos in 460 B. C. A large collection of writings, evidently the work of many physicians, whose identity is unknown, has been ascribed to the pen of this leader. The Greeks were wonderfully brilliant in medical attainments, for they studied nature and her methods and shook themselves free from a monumental load of ignorance and superstition. The synchronous development of mind and body was the fundamental rule, both of health and education.—Medical Record.

The Discipline of Failure.

The best skating is always on thin ice—we like to feel it crack and yield under our feet. There is a deadly fascination in the thought of twenty or thirty feet of cold water beneath. Last year's mortality list cuts no ice with us. We must make our own experiments, while Dr. Experience screams himself hoarse from his bonfire on the bank. He has held many an inquest on this darkling shore of the river of time, and he will undoubtedly live to hold many another, but thus far we have not been the subjects, and when it comes to the mistakes of others we are all delighted to serve on the coroner's jury. It isn't well for us to be saved from too many blunders. We need the discipline of failure. It is better to fail than never to try, and the man who can contemplate the graveyard of his own hopes without bitterness will not always be ignored by the gods of success.—Meredith Nicholson in Reader.

Tree That Gives Light.

Among freaks of nature in trees there stands conspicuous one known as the Asiatic star tree. It is enormously tall, growing to a height of from sixty feet to eighty feet, while from the ground up to a distance of about forty feet the trunk is perfectly bare. From that point there spring a number of tangled limbs, which shoot out clusters of long, pointed leaves, and it is these, grouped together, that emit at night a clear, phosphorescent light. This gives the tree a spectral appearance and is very deceiving to travelers, who frequently mistake the glow for an illuminated window of a house. The light is not brilliant, but is of sufficient strength to allow of a newspaper being read by it. It does not flicker, but glows steadily from sunset to daybreak.

Men Who Walked on All Fours.

In the kingdom of Poland there was formerly a law according to which any person found guilty of slander was compelled to walk on all fours through the streets of the town where he lived accompanied by the beadle, as a sign that he was disgraced and unworthy of the name of man. At the next public festival the delinquent was forced to appear crawling upon hands and knees underneath the banqueting table and barking like a dog. Every guest was at liberty to give him as many kicks as he chose, and he who had been slandered must toward the end of the banquet throw a picked bone at the culprit, who, picking it up with his mouth, would leave the room on all fours.

No Peace For Discoverers.

It is remarkable how few of the discoverers and conquerors of the new world died in peace. Columbus died of a broken heart, Balboa was disgracefully beheaded, Cortes was dishonored, Sir Walter Raleigh was beheaded, Pizarro was murdered, Ojeda died in poverty and Henry Hudson was left to the mercy of the Indians along the bay which he discovered.—Detroit Free Press.

Don't Kill the Hawk.

Man has sinned more than any other animal in trifling with nature's balance. Clover crops and the killing of hawks are apparently unrelated, yet the hawks eat the field mice, the field mice prey on the immature bees, and the bees fertilize the clover blossoms. The death of a hawk means an overincrease of field mice and a consequent destruction of the bees.—Country Life In America.

A Charity Dance.

Awkward Spouse—I see our set is to have a grand charity ball. Did you ever dance for charity? Pretty Wife—Of course. Don't you remember how I used to take pity on you and dance with you when we first met?—London Telegraph.

His Wish.

They had just moved into a new house, and they stood surveying the situation. "I wish," she said, "that this carpet was velvet." "I don't," responded the husband unfeelingly. "I wish it was down."

Easy.

Maisie—Aren't you coming to my party? Daisy—How can I when I'm in half mourning? Maisie—Oh, well, come and stay half the evening.—Cleveland Leader.

Not to understand a treasure's worth till time has stolen away the slightest good is cause of half the poverty we feel and makes the world the wilderness it is.—Cowper.

Leper Colony in Cebu.

Virtually kidnapped by the island authorities, the leper colony at Cebu has been rounded up by health officials and hurriedly transported to the new quarters provided by the Philippine commissioners at Culion island. The transfer was secretly accomplished under the supervision of Dr. Victor G. Heiser, director of health. It was feared that if publicity were given to the proposed transfer, those having friends at Manila might receive warning which would precipitate their flight to the four winds, away from the ill guarded camp at Cebu where the government has caused them to be segregated. The colony there is composed of about 50 of the unfortunate sufferers, who will now be cared for at an island of comfort. Culion leper colony is situated on one of the most fertile and healthy isle in the Philippine archipelago. There is a Roman Catholic Church at the colony, to which Father Valles, who will devote his life to the unfortunates, has been assigned. A number of Sisters of Charity have also consecrated their lives to the service. About 150 cottages have been erected and others will be constructed as soon as funds are available.

Auto Struck the Dog.

D. C. O'Flaherty, while driving his automobile Tuesday, collided with a large Newfoundland dog on the river road near Richmond, causing the car to buck high in the air, throwing out the occupants of the car.

Miss Helen O'Ferrall, daughter of ex-Gov. O'Ferrall, was sent sailing over a high fence, landing in a clump of bushes on the other side. She was seriously bruised and cut and nearly all of her clothing, including her shoes and stockings, were torn into shreds.

The other occupants of the car, Miss Rose Morris, Miss Mary Drake and Mr. John Cutchins, were also injured. The dog was killed. The car was much damaged. The party returned to the city on a trolley car.
